

Annual Reuse Conference and Awards Ceremony February 10th 2009

Eastex has teamed up with Envirowise to host a day of activities that are guaranteed to help and inspire positive change within your organisation – all for FREE.

This year we explore the relationship between waste and profit

There will be the opportunity to learn about finding the perfect resource reuse partner, product design for the environment and how Eastex can save you money and resources. The morning session will also include the Eastex awards to highlight the high-achievers of 2008.

The conference will also provide opportunities to reduce waste disposal costs, develop new business contacts and demonstrate the benefits of the 'Reduce, Reuse and Recycle' hierarchy. See examples of how this can save you money and show your business to be environmentally aware.

A buffet lunch will be provided which will allow plenty of time for networking with other organisations as well as giving an excellent opportunity for you to exchange ideas and 'best practice' methods.
